JANMASHTAMI CELEBRATION

Date : 14th August 2025
Venue : Department Of Statistics
Time : 10:00 A.M.

On morning of 14th August 2025, the Heritage Club of the Department of Statistics ,University of Delhi celebrated Janmashtami. Janmashtami, also known as Krishna Janmashtami or Gokul Ashtami, is one of the most significant festivals celebrated across India to mark the birth of Lord Krishna, the eighth incarnation of Lord Vishnu. Observed with great devotion and enthusiasm, the festival usually falls in the month of August or September, on the eighth day (Ashtami) of the Krishna Paksha of the Bhadrapada month.

The department premises were adorned with beautiful rangoli and floral decorations creating a serene and festive ambience. The event commenced with lightning of diya by Professor Ranjita Pandey and all other faculty members of the department, symbolizing the dispelling of darkness and the arrival of positivity . Following the lightning ceremony , a collective Aarti was performed where everyone gathered to offer their prayers and devotion to Lord Krishna. This ritual accompanied by traditional chants and bhajans , infused the environment with spiritual fervour and deepened the sense of togetherness among the attendees . The event then concluded with a heartfelt speech by Professor Ranjita Pandey emphasizing the importance of values such as selflessness ,righteousness ,love and empathy which Lord Krishna taught us, in order to live a meaningful life and make the world around us a better place to live in.

The event saw an active participation of Ph.D. scholars ,all faculty members along with Masters Part 1 and Part 2 students which made this celebration a memorable one. This celebration was a testament to our department's commitment of celebrating the rich cultural heritage our country possesses as everyone came together as a family in the spirit of devotion and festivity. The celebration concluded with joy, enthusiasm and a shared sense of togetherness ,leaving behind cherished memories for everyone present.
